User's usage commitment does not apply to Payment Methods that Stripe does not support.

5. Directly-Negotiated Payment Method Rates.

- 0.1 If User or a Connected Account has a Direct Rate, then upon Stripe's request, User will provide to Stripe the Direct Rate Information so that Stripe can validate the accuracy of the fees that the Payment Method Provider charges Stripe for User's or its Connected Account's Transactions.
- 0.2 If a Direct Rate results in a Payment Method Provider imposing higher or lower fees on Stripe than the Payment Method Provider would otherwise impose for User's or its Connected Account's Transactions, Stripe may at its discretion, and in certain circumstances the Payment Method Provider may require Stripe to, adjust its User-facing fee(s) to incorporate the Direct Rate and pass through the impact of the associated cost increase or reduction to User. Stripe's reduction of any User-facing fee(s) due to a Direct Rate is conditioned on (a) User providing to Stripe the Direct Rate Information promptly after Stripe's request; and (b) if the fee adjustment requires amendment to this Fee Schedule (for example, the Direct Rate contemplates a new fee structure), the parties entering into that amendment.

- 6. Term. The term of this Fee Schedule begins on the Effective Date and continues for the initial term referenced in the table at the beginning of this Fee Schedule (the "Initial Term"), after which this Fee Schedule will automatically renew for subsequent 12-month periods (each, a "Renewal Term"), unless either party provides notice of non-renewal at least 30 days prior to the end of the Initial Term or applicable Renewal Term. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Fee Schedule or the Stripe Agreement, neither party may terminate this Fee Schedule or the Stripe Agreement for convenience. This Fee Schedule will automatically terminate if the Stripe Agreement terminates.

If during the Initial Term or the Renewal Term, User suffers a material degradation of the quality Service as a result of changes Stripe makes to comply with "Know Your Customer" (KYC) obligations, both parties will negotiate in good faith a remediation plan within 45 days from the date User notifies Stripe of the material degradation ("Remediation Period"). If the parties are unsuccessful in negotiating a remediation plan during the Remediation Period, User may use a secondary provider as long as the secondary provider is only used for backup or redundancy purposes for as long as the User's use of Service remains negatively impacted as a result of changes Stripe makes to comply with "Know Your Customer" (KYC) obligations.

- 7. Confidentiality. This Fee Schedule is Stripe's confidential information. User may not share its content, including the pricing, with any third party without Stripe's prior written permission.

8. Marketing and Promotional Activities.

User will participate in marketing activities as agreed by the parties in relation to User's use of the Services, including reference calls, written or video case studies, press releases, and provision of executive quotes. Stripe may use and distribute materials from the marketing activities on its website, social media channels, sales presentations, and written communications.

- 9. Exclusive Endorsement Rights. User will not (a) endorse or act as a reference for services offered by a payment processing provider other than Stripe (an "Alternative Provider"); or (b) allow an Alternative Provider to use User's name or logo publicly or in customer-focused marketing materials. If an Alternative Provider uses User's name or logo in violation of this section, User will ensure that the Alternative Provider immediately removes User's name, brand and any other identifying information from the public display or marketing materials.

10. Interpretation. Unless specified as business days, all references in this Fee Schedule to days, months or years mean calendar days, calendar months or calendar years. For numbers, commas are used as thousands separators and periods are used as decimal separators (e.g., “1,500.50” means one thousand, five hundred and one half).
11. Pricing Page. The fees in this Fee Schedule supersede the corresponding fees listed on the Pricing Page during the term of the Fee Schedule. If following termination of this Fee Schedule there is no corresponding fee for a Service listed on the Pricing Page, then (a) Stripe may terminate User’s access to that Service at any time, and (b) if Stripe permits User to continue to access that Service, then Stripe will charge User the fees set out in this Fee Schedule for that Service for as long as there is no corresponding fee listed on the Pricing Page. The then-current fees on the Pricing Page apply to the extent not superseded by fees in this Fee Schedule or another existing fee schedule that applies to Stripe and User, or if User uses Services in a country other than the Territory. The then-current fees on the Pricing Page also apply (a) to User’s Stripe Accounts in the Territory which are not Eligible Accounts; and (b) in any case where User uses a bank account settlement currency other than the Payout Currency, unless Stripe at its discretion chooses to convert and apply the corresponding fees listed in this Fee Schedule.
12. General. This Fee Schedule incorporates the terms of the Stripe Agreement by reference. To the extent this Fee Schedule conflicts with existing fee schedules between Stripe and User, this Fee Schedule will govern to the extent of the conflict. This Fee Schedule may not be modified except in a writing signed by the parties. Except as modified in this Fee Schedule, the Stripe Agreement and any existing fee schedules remain in full force and effect. Capitalized undefined terms used in this Fee Schedule have the meaning given them in the Stripe Agreement. It is the express wish of the parties that this Fee Schedule and all related documents be drawn up in English. C’est la volonté expresse des parties que la présente Annexe Tarifaire ainsi que les documents qui s’y rattachent soient rédigés en anglais.
